

Benefits and Activities of the Engineering Society of Buffalo, Inc.

The Engineering Society of Buffalo was organized in 1894 and incorporated in 1920. Currently there are approximately 156 in the Society. These members represent the full spectrum of engineering disciplines; technicians, educators, as well as owners of businesses in engineering activities. The ESB aims to foster and promote engineering knowledge and education.

Currently, the ESB supports 11 students in their scholarship program. The students are from the State University of New York at Buffalo and Buffalo State College.

Funds to support these scholarships are generated by direct contributions, income from investment of endowment funds and the annual scholarship run.

The Society employs an office administrator.

The ESB is recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as a non-profit organization. Therefore, any donations or grants to the Endowment Fund or the Engineering Society of Buffalo are tax-deductible.

The ESB Provides these opportunities:

- Monthly meeting (technical and social)
- Monthly plant tours and talks
- Monthly newsletter
- Awards 3 scholarships per year in the study of engineering
- Annual Scholarship Run
- Runs P.E. Review Course
- Networking with other engineers
- Supports the Technical Societies Council (over 30 organizations)
- Joint meetings with other technical and engineering groups
- Potential business contacts
- Personal satisfaction in helping to promote engineering locally
- Can become a community leader
- Source for socializing and making friends
- Bowling League
